

Award for the Development of Quranic Culture in the Field of Research and Higher Education

Mohsen Faryadras

Education: Ph.D.

Title of Work: Analytical Examination of the Dimensions of the Qur'anic Resistance School in Confronting External Enemies; With Emphasis on the Views of Islamic Commentators and Thinkers

Format of Work: Doctoral Dissertation

Mohsen Faryadras was born in 1992. After completing his high school, he pursued higher education in the field of Qur'anic Sciences and Hadith due to its essential role in understanding and interpreting religious texts. He continued his studies at the bachelor's, master's, and doctoral levels in this field and successfully defended his doctoral dissertation titled "Analytical Examination of the Dimensions of the Qur'anic Resistance School in Confronting External Enemies; With Emphasis on the Views of Islamic Commentators and Thinkers" at Tarbiat Modares University in 2023. Currently, he serves as a faculty member and assistant professor in the Department of Qur'anic Sciences and Hadith at Ayatollah Boroujerdi University. He began teaching at the university level in 2019 and has experience in teaching undergraduate and master's students in various higher education institutions. His research activities include supervising and advising several theses, authoring one book, and presenting over twenty articles in reputable journals and scientific conferences.